FIVE RIOTERS SENTENCED

Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

In the deluge of political pabulum which comes through the mail we note with approval certain statements of Lieutenant Governor George J. Hatfield, seeking the Republican nomination for governor, concerning Bulbert L. Olson's candidacy for the Democratic nomination. It calls to mind how far the Democratic party has strayed from the Wilson, the Cleveland, and the Jefferson ideals of the party. If an analysis were made by some patient commentator, we suspect that it would be found that the Republican Party closely approximates in practice the theories of the three exponents of Democratic government mentioned. Andrew Jackson we omit, for the reason that Jackson was sui generis, one only of his kind, and no kin politically to any of the great leaders of his party, including the present occupant of the White House.

What Mr. Hatfield is saying regarding the Republican party's chief opponent in California, is what any citizen might well think. Hatfield expresses the though in careful well considered words and we therefore quote him:

"I have no personal feud with Mr.Olson, but I am in violent disagreement with Mr. Olson's policies and principles. Mr. Olson, for example, believes in "production for use"—the End Poverty in California mirage first established by Upton Sinclair. Production for use, translated into layman's language, is Communism. And having witnessed the results of Communism in Soviet Russia, I am opposed to it.

Mr. Olson, too, has espoused the One-House Legislature, a scheme which would abolish the State Senate and virtually disfranchise rural California. Under Mr. Olson's plan, three counties of California would be placed in position to dictate to 55 other counties. I don't like dictatorships and I don't like Mr. Olson's plan for minority government.

Mr. Olson, again, has fought vigorously —as a member of the State Legislature—for a one-sided labor relations act, which would have established in California a counterpart of the National Labor Relations Board. That board, in my opinion, and my opinion is shared by millions of union labor men — has not been a fair labor tribunal. It has been a partisan board, rendering decisions which favored one segment of labor as against another. And it has stirred up more labor strife; more strikes and more disorders than any other agency in America.

I don't want to see that travtsey of labor justice dpulicated in California. I don't want to see a governor elected who will go into office tagged with the CIO label. And that does not mean that I am opposed to the CIO. It only means that I am opposed to turning over the control of government to any highly partisan faction, which will demand its pound of flesh at the expense of all other factions.

CITY COUNCIL DISCUSSES PLAN FOR NEW BRIDGE

The city council met Wednesday with Mr. Tinney, an engineer for the Highway headquarters at Marysville, and discussed a re-routing of the state highway through Nevada City. It was tentatively proposed when the new Broad street bridge is built through traffic down Sacramento across the bridge and up Nevada street. The bridge which is being considered would be a double bridge accomodating both Broad and Main street traffic. In event one bridge is now substituted for the two old bridges, it would be necessary to obtain additional rights of way from the Standard Oil Co. which has a station adjacent and between the two bridges. If one bridge were substituted for the two it would be a three or four lane bridge, depending upon recommendations of the state highway commission.

BROKEN NOSE

Phillip Joyal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Joyal, received a broken nose Wednesday while at work at the Zeibright mine. The young man is working to earn money to go to college.

Murchie Miners To Frolic and Picnic At White Cloud Sunday

BY ROY DEETER

Well, it seems the Murchie boys are having themselves a party. And according to information we have gleaned it will be quite a set up. In the first place it is for Murchie and Zeibright men and their wives and families, and they can bring friends, (tickets available at the gate); this ought to make for a hummer crowd. In the second place they are having this affair up at the CCC camp on the Tahoe Ukiah highway, which is an ideal spot for an outdoor frolic. There is lots of shade, lots of room for games, there will be dancing and from what we can gather, there will be an abundance of simply super food and grand cold beer available to all, all of the time. The third (and by no means least) item that will tend to make this Murchie picnic a memorable one is the kindness and generosity of the mechants and the business men in Nevada City. It seems that everyone has contributed something. The prize list is certainly a honey, the Murchie boys are tremendously appreciative of this cooperation too, and it is kind of swell to feel the interest the town takes in this particular event. They call it the Murchie picnic, in reality it is a giant get-to-gether of the whole community, so don't forget the date, Sunday, June 12, the time, all day, the place the CCC camp on the Tahoe-Ukiah highway, and we'll be seeing you.

The following business firms and citizens have contributed these prizes for the picnic.

Plaza Grocery, mdse. order; Alpha Stores, Ltd., waffle iron; Jackson Grocery, mdse. order; Peases Bakery, two cakes; Boston Mercantile Co., mdse. order; Forrest B. Risley, cleaning order; A. C. Larsen, hair cut order; Nevada City Drug Store, mdse. order; Angelo Cartoscelli, case of beer; Bolton's Variety Store, mdse. order; G. Pianelli, two Sunday dinners; H. Skeahan, quart whiskey; Penrose and Sons, four cans coffee; Twin City Clothing, mdse. order; The Nevada City Nugget, one years subscription; W. S. Williamson, car greased and five quarts of oil; Thos. Jennings, pair of gloves; Hitchens Bootery, pair of keds.

B. P. Robinson, 5 quarts of oil; J. Shebley, mdse. order; Mrs. Edward Rose, mdse. order; Morning Union, 6 mos. subscription; Bottle Shop, one pt. whiskey; Nevada City Ice Delivery, case beer and case soda; Ernest Schreiber, one qt, whiskey; Dickerman's, mdse. order; Harris Drug Store, mdse. order; Wm. Home, mds. order; Nevada City Garage, 10 gal. gas; Leonard Johnson, mdse. order; The Style Shop, mds. or.; Plaza Garage, 5 quarts oil; Leanord Johnson, mdse. order; Save More 5 & 10, mdse. order; Hartungs, baby prize mdse. order; Pine St. Cafe, one case beer; Kistles Repair Shop, mdse. order; R. J. Berggren, Bab's bracelet; Cardinal Meat Market, roast of beef; Cardinal Store, two prizes, mdse. orders; Bosworth Furniture Store, mdse. order; Tahoe Sugar Pine, mdse. order; New York Hotel, family Sunday dinner; A. L. Lane, 5 gal. gas; Nevada City County Lumber, two prizes, one half gal, paint each.

Calanan and Richards, 1 side bacon; S. Lee Leiter, one fine pipe; Lantern Shop, mdse. order; Lace House, mdse. order; W. R. Moulton, case canned beer, case bottled beer; Sunnyside Greenhouses, mdse. order; Nevada City Bottling Works, mdse. order; Kopps Bakery, mdse. order; L. E. Noyes, mdse. order; Foley's Confectionery, mdse. order; Glenn Clelands Garage, mdse. order; Prouse drivein Mkt. mds. order.

Fourth Committee Would Dedicate Court House July 3

The Fourth of July committee met Tuesday evening and plans were talked over with chairman George Gildersleeve. It was suggested that members meet with the board of supervisors on June 15 and make arrangements to dedicate the Nevada County court house on Sunday, July 3. Plans were made to send a caravan of citizens to Auburn, Roseville, Sacramento, Marysville and other cities in the Sacramento Valley to invite them to attend the big three day celebration here on the second, third and fourth of July.

Flags, streamers, effigies of troubadors and gay senoritas and other decorations on business houses are putting pep and punch plans for the big fiesta. Already the fourth spirit is in the air. Everyone is preparing to enter the celebration with vigor and vim to unite with patriots all over the United States to honor the best country on earth.

Floats for the fourth are being talked over. Mrs. George Gildersleeve was chosen chairman of a group from Ponemah Council, Degree of Pocahontas, to prepare a float for the lodge.

PURPORTED LIST OF CIO MEMBERS PUBLISHED

What purports to be the list of 190 members of the CIO local organization has been distributed in Grass Valley and Nevada City. It is an alphabetical roster of names of those who are assumed to be members of the CIO. It has aroused interest among all citizens, since the CIO officials have been somewhat secretive regarding membership.

CLUB ORGANIZED TO AID MERRIAM RE-ELECTION

At a dinner meeting of Republicans in Bret Harte Inn Monday night, which was attended by Earl Lee Kelly, Public Works director, other officials of the state administration, and Nevada and Sierra county republican leaders, a Merriam-for-governor club was organized.

Eben Smart presided at the dinner, and among the guests were Paul Ullrich, chairman of the Nevada County Republican Central committee and other members of that body.

Fred F. Cassidy, was chosen president of the club, Elton Williams, vice president, Loyle Freeman, secretary-manager, and Andy Holmes, treasurer.

Plans for a comprehensive campaign for the re-election of Governor Frank Merriam were discussed.

RUBY MINE

Thirty men are employed at the Ruby mine near Forest City and some gravel is being mined. It s exderstood a raise is to be made in the near future to develp gravel. L. L. Huelsdonk is in charge of the property. Bert C. Austin, consulting engineer, came up from San Francisco and spent Monday at the mine. The property has produced millions from gravel in the past.

John Muscardini won the office of president with LaVerne Willard as vice president, and Byron King secretary and June Hawke treasurer. The officers will be installed Friday morning.

SNIPER SELLS $250 NUGGET

Tuesday Hal D. Draper, local assayer and gold buyer, purchased an eight ounce gold nugget from a sniper who found it last Friday. The beautiful specimen of reddish yellow gold is valued at $250. Mr. Draper stated that this is the largest nugget turned in so far this year. It was found on a stream that drains into the North Yuba river. F. F. Cassidy has purchased the nugget from Mr. Draper for a specimen.

About a month ago a sniper found a nugget valued at about $200 in a crevice in the rocks high above the water line of the river ten miles north of Downieville.

Circle: 8 Months, $600 Other Four: 6 Mos., $600

Probation was denied yesterday morning by Judge Raglan Tuttle to the five men convicted of rioting a week ago and each was fined $600, a jail term of six months assigned to Vassion, Zderich, Staton and Yuen, and eight months for Circle, who was regarded as a leader in the disturbances. Bail was fixed at $2,000 cash or $4,000 bond for each defendant pending appeal of which Attorney Anderson gave due notice. For each $4 of the fine unpaid a day in jail was imposed as part of the sentence.

Attorney George Anderson for the defense served notice of an appeal and asked a 24 hour stay of execution of the court's order. Judge Tuttle, however, stated that the defense might have anticipated the situation, and refused a stay. The defendants accordingly were placed in the custody of the sheriff until such time as the bail money is deposited to liberate them pending decision of the case on appeal to Third District Appelate court in Sacramento.

The trial of Grant Spear, also charged with rioting on January 20 was set for Monday, July 11.

The maximum jail term and fine for this offense, prescribed by the penal code, is one year in jail and $2000 fine, either or both.

The report of Probation Officer A. W. McGagin was adverse to granting probation. Regarding Circle, the probation officer reported that he had only been in the community six months and had apparently come here for the purpose of making trouble.

Of Henry Yuen the probation officer stated in effect that he was a native of China, not a citizen, and that in being given work in the Murchie he had been granted an opportunity to help support his younger brothers and sisters, that rules governing employment at the mine had been leniently interpreted to admit of his employment there, and that apparently he had not appreciated the favor extended him.

Roy Staton, the probation officer stated was a native of Arkansas and and until the time of the riot had enjoyed a good reputation.

Vasion, father of seven, had left a job with good pay to join the picket line. His family has been on relief for several months.

Zderich ,a native of Arizona, had lived in Nevada county for 19 years, had been employed for some time by the county and by the city on various projects.

The following is a stenographic report of Judge Tuttle's comment in pronouncing sentence:

THE COURT: Let the record show that the defendants are present, as is the defendant's attorney, Mr. Anderson, and the District Attorney and his Assistant.

Let the record show that the Court has read the report of the Probation Officer.

Our courts have heled that probation is an act of grace and clemency. Do these defendants merit such consideration? Let us examine into their conduct since the date of the commission of the offense on January 20, 1938.

The brother unionists of the defendants undertook to publish a mimeagraphed sheet under the name of "Miners' Voice." On February 11, 1938, they published a scathing, contemptuous attack upon the judge of this court, and other county officials. Their partizans then commenced to mail thousands of postcards addressed to the judge of this court, demanding, in a contemptuous manner, that the action be dismissed. Such acts have never been repudiated by defendants or their counsel, and it must be assumed and presumed that they approved of the same.

According to the San Francisco press, some of these defendants appeared at various times before labor groups, in an endeavor to raise funds for their defense. Their stories were of injured innocence and martyrdom. They evidently did not give out that they were not engaged in peaceful picketing, as the jury found, and as some of them admitted upon the witness stand, but in unlawfully blocking a road and by actual force preventing other men from going to or coming from work. If legal picketing had been used, you would never have been here today.

When these postcards refer to yourselves as exercising your legal right to picket, they stated an absolute falsehood, from your own admissions on the witness stand. Such dishonest propaganda has made the court and county the object of villification throughout certain labor circles, and I charge you and your counsel with full responsibility and accountability.

I do not think that such conduct merits any clemency from the court.

None of the defendants, except Vassion, has any children. He has seven. It must be remembered, however, that he quit a job with a living wage, to join the picket line. Let those who counselled such a course contribute to the support of his family. As a matter of fact, according to the report of the probation officer, the entire family has been on relief for some months past. Deprivation of his earning ability will not affect the family budget.

It is regrettable that the leaders of this affair are not before the court. They never are. The "Irwins" are always missing in the list of defendants.

In passing, the court might observe that it is a sorry commentary on the affairs in this country, when, as here, the name of the President of the United States is invoked in defense of lawlessness and civil disorder.

Open defiance of constituted authority and assaults on officers of the law will not be tolerated in Nevada County. It is something which strikes at the very root of organized government.

In conclusion, I want to say that if you had been properly advised and had come before this court at the inception of this affair, and pleaded guilty. you would be walking the streets today free men. Instead, you have caused this county to expend several thousand dollars. Your attorneys knew that you had no legal right to block that road. They have raised the old hue and cry of "prejudice" obviously preparing an alibi for an outcome which they knew would be likely to follow. It is an outworn and outmoded device, which often works in the reverse.

We have heard much in this case from defendants on the question of "constitutional rights," but they did not mention such a right in favor of the men who wants to work for what and for whom he pleases.

It is the opinion of the court that the conduct of defendants does not merit any clemency at the hands of this court, and, accordingly, it is ordered that the motion for probation as to each defendant be denied. You may stand up.

Mr. Anderson: Before the court formally pronounces judgment, I desire to have bail exonerated, your Honor.

The Court: Mr. Circle—

Mr. Anderson: Will the court direct a minute order to that effect?

The Court: Your motion is not made in the proper form.

Mr. Anderson: Representing the bondsmen, I desire, on their behalf, to have the bail exonerated.

The Court: That is not a proper motion, not in the proper form.

Mr. Circle, it appeared from the evidence that you were a leader, obviously, of this group, in the commission of this offense. You are sentenced to eight months in the county jail. It is also adjudged that you pay a fine in the sum of $600.00, and in default of the payment of said fine, that you be confined in the county jail at the rate of one day for every $4.00 of the fine remaining unpaid. As to all the remaining defendants, it is adjudged that each of you be sentenced to six months in the county jail and that each of you pay a fine of $600.00 or in default of the payment of such fines, that you be imprisoned in the county jail at the rate of one day for every $4 of the fine remaining unpaid.

JUST WONDERIN'

I wonder at hoss tradin' stunts
Of David Harum's time,
And how to-boots were figured out
When nags were past their prime;
Was tradin' in the dear old days
A sort of social art,
In which the trader and tradee
Each took an equal part?

I wonder if in times past, horse trading was regarded by its addicts, as a most exciting and pleasurable diversion; it involved a combat of wits, judgment backed by technical knowledge, clarity of vision, diplomacy and super-salesmanship.

Try to imagine yourself as a horse trader of the old school and see if you can't catch something of the thrill once enjoyed by your Yankee ancestors; you and an acquaintance—chance or otherwise, lead your respective hosses out for inspection. While he is prodding, poking and thumping your purblind pinto ,pulling his reluctant jaws agape and carefully scrutinizing tell tale molars, you are performing the same ceremonies upon his rangy roan. When the examination is completed, you talk things over, decide which horse sports the greater number of defects, you throw in a second hand surcingle to-boot, nose bag or a couple of woolen horse blankets, after which you conduct your new nag to the family paddock. Your serene ego is permeated with a glow of satisfaction and in your heart is the uplifting knowledge that you have played a keen game — more or less ethically and taken a number of points which your friend completely overlooked.

Not much of a trade perhaps; that is, if judged by modern standards, but think of the ease with which it was consummated. You were unhampered by sales, transportation and inheritance taxes, red tape or governmental supervision, and you were not compelled to join The Hoss Traders' Union, local or international.

I wonder at the extremity of bad taste and poor judgment displayed by the German Blunderbund, in selecting Memorial Day as a time for the demonstration of its chemically pure allegiance to a foreign dictator. May thirty has long been held sacred to the memory of those who gave their lives that the principles and institutions of democracy might live. Upon that day when Freedom's flag was unfurled throughout a greatful land, from border to border, and the strains of The Star Spangled Banner thrilled the air, as patriotic citizens gathered to pay tribute to our honored dead, the cacophony of gutteral hieling struck an indiscribably discordant note. Perhaps the crude affrontry manifested by this subversive organization, will serve to damn it in the minds of all true Americans and bring its undesirable activities to a speedy termination.

Uncle Silas says: "I think it high time we stop lauding the Canadian Mounted, and toss a few compliments in the direction of our souththwestern border patrol, Smugglers are usually bad hombres, and there are fifty seven varieties of them along that lower border.

—A. MERRIAM CONNER.

THIS AND THAT

By ROY GRIFFITH DEETER

This week's word of wisdom: To dwell in the past to stunt the spirit.

This week's chuckle: The sweet young thing who naively stated that virtue is her relaxation.

We wrestle with a personal problem: We have been acquiring ourselves a very presentable tan—but our nether limbs. They have the appearance of slightly overstuffed, slightly discombabulated and very definitely very sick worms. How to speed up the tanning thereof, we would like to know. Any advice? Which query reminds us of an incident of many years ago, in fact we remember it not only as if it were yesterday but practically as if it were the day before. Being a sufferer of that disease which has destroyed so many cats (curiosity) we answered an ad, which for the sum of one shilling (two bits American) the revelation of a permanent cure for a red nose was promised, to repeat we bit, the answer was, we quote, "quit drinking." We didn't feel so good about that one.

We ramble: We have been roving around lately, in fact the other evening we got real brave and peregrinated as far as Sacramento. We trotted hither and yon and found a place called the Eureka club (street not noted,) This is a very attractive dine and dance place run by Negroes and really excellently run too, there is a floor show that is good, with one colored gent who really shakes a mean hard shoe. If fact we haven't seen anything as good in this line for quite some time. There is another immense dark gentleman who has a remarkably sweet voice for so huge a chunk of Ethopia, and some very slender young brown maidens who do tap routines. The food, southern of course, is excellent and the service is good, but the cream on the baked apple is the perfectly amazing fine dance band. Lads and lassies, believe us, that's music with rhythm that is irresistable. If you like to dance, you should try this spot, don't think you'd have any difficulty finding it.

We had quite a time this week trying to find a birthday card for a friend, but each shop we went to was so flooded with graduating cards we could fine nothing suitable so in desperation we sent a graduating card too, for upon reflection we came to the conclusion that a birthday is a type of graduation, or at least it ought to be.

And so, we say to you, cheerio, everybody.

Breaking Seals On Closed Minds

About 3000 students last year enrolled in the University of California extension division correspondence courses. While this is an increase over past figures, it still seems very small in view of the huge population of the state and the great advantages which this excellent department of correspondence courses offers to the public for a nominal sum. The extension division of the University giyes correspondence courses in 225 subjects, a majority of which are the equivalent in content to University courses in the same subject. A selection more comprehensive than that developed by many small colleges is offered through the mail by a corps of one hundred instructors.

The principle upon which the extension division of the University is based is that the human mind is capable of lifelong development. In this view, education is a continuous means of living more and more richly. Every adult who has the desire to learn and some little leisure in which to study is eligible to do the work of the extension division. Previous higher education is not necessary, for basic and elementary courses are provided for those who have not graduated from college or who need preparation before undertaking the more advanced courses of the program.

The richer life that is stimulated by continuous study and learning does not immediately become evident when the phrases "correspondence course" or "adult learning" enter our consciousness. It is a subtle thing, not immediately apparent, and one who has long noted myriads of cheap get-rich-quick vocational courses, does not immediately invision a deeper, understanding and appreciation of life, in connection with any correspondence instruction.

Leisure learning through reading and study has an effect of greatly quickening the acuteness of the mind not only in the particular province of the course studied, but in all departments of thought. In addition to acquiring specialized knowledge in one or several fields through leisure study, the man who devotes some of his spare time to directed reading and thought, finds that his whole attitude toward knowledge and learning undergoes a quiet, but stiumlating change. Unless some kind of study engaging intellectual activity is participated in, the mental life of an adult is doomed in most cases to a rut of newspapers, magazines and very light fiction.

An evil which accompanies the steady indulgence in too light reading fare is the formation of a good number of unintelligent opinions which are clung to with a tenacity that is in inverse proportion to the vigor of one's mental life. Those who study a course in which they are interested find that an excellent by-product of their specialized study is that in keeping their minds open and willing to learn one subjest they have unconsciously acquired the ability to view a good many things with an open mind. What greater advantage than this can the adult mind attain?

Progress has been hampered from time immemorial by generations of elders who from the day they achieved adulthood, decided that they now knew everything they wished to know and that their mind was a closed book, to be opened at the risk of disturbing cobwebs and strange creatures that live only in the dark. These great and respected groups of people form the ranks of reactionaries and the more hide-bound conservatices in politics, thought and nearly every activity of life. The extremes of the reactionaries give rise to the dreadful foibles of radicals and so discord is evident that a great part of the discord and inflammation of our modern world is directly due to the preponderance of hermetically sealed adult minds.

These minds which ceased learning around the second decade with a sigh of relief, should and can have the seals removed and the light invited to enter and drive out the strange, blind creatures that make their homes in the cobwebs there. When adult learning progresses from being the exception to the accepted rule, as has child education, the world will have taken another and vital step in the pragmatic approach to the millenium.

SMALL BUSINESS MEN'S CONCLAVE IS POSTPONED

SACRAMENTO, June 9. — The call for a conference of small business men for June 10-11, issued by Governor Merriam, has received a very generous response, not alone from the business men of the state but from other interests who recognize the value of such a conference in bringing about improved conditions in commercial, industrial and labor lines. Its importance in relation to employment and prosperity, is fully recognized. The governor says: "Because of this generous response and the demands for a much larger and extended program than had been contemplated, it seems advisable to postpone the dater until later. The question of representation has also been raised. It is contended that some plan should be devised that will provide an equitable method and accord to the different lines of business the naming of certain representation. Localities also feel there should be some basis for the selection of delegates that will give to each city and county representation in accordance with its business. The desire is that the conference should become a representative group rather than a mass meeting.

"When I agreed to the request of small business to call a statewide meeting, it was with the idea and desire of holding a conference at which their special problems could be discussed, and it could be determined what could best be done to secure changed conditions.

"It has also been suggested that small business men's conferences in the various districts might well be held prior to and preparatory for the larger state meeting. It is stated:

1. That many of the small business men's problems are local, a survey would show. These could well be considered in a district conference.

2. That many of the small business men cannot take time from their work, nor afford to go so far as the state Capitol to attend such a conference as was proposed. That only a few of them could be heard ,unless the conference was to last for an undesirable length of time.

"Until these questions, above mentioned, are determined it seems undesirable to hold such a conference as was contemplated. Questions of such detail and method of representation and organization should be determined in some way before the conference is held in order that there may be an orderly consideration and determination respecting the problems involved.

"I am still of the opinion that such a conference would be of great value and aid to the small business man, and that the problems of relief, unemployment, and the strife between employers and workers could and should receive the consideration of such a conference.

"For the reasons and considerations above stated, I am postponing the conference to a future date and wish to sincerely thank all who were ready to participate and especially those who gave of their time and effort".

COLORED MOVIES OF MINE SCENES ARE BEING MADE

W. W. Esterly and C. L. Rublacava are engaged in taking moving pictures in color of Sierra mountain scenes along the Mother Lode and in this county for exhibition at the Golden Gate Evposition on Treasure Island next year when this great international fair opens.

They have recently concluded a tour of Calaveras and Amador counties this week are busy with scenes, showing the big mines in operation in the Grass Valley district. They expect to take reels of the mines in the Nevada City area, of the court house and of the swimming pool in Pioneers park. Anyone who can propose an interesting colored movie of any subject in this vicinity is cordially invited to communicate with W. W. Esterly in Grass Valley.

CHICKENS HARASS HUGE RATTLESNAKE

CAMPTONVILLE, June 9. — As Mrs. Lee Bullington and Mrs. Mandus Carlson were visiting at the Cold Spring service station Saturday afternoon they noticed a group of chickens following something out in the yard and upon investigation found it to be a large rattlesnake. The fowls had evidently brought it in from the woods and were picking at its ratltes as it crawled along. Leo Bullington dispatched the reptile with his shot gun. The snake measured over three feet and had 12 rattles.

IN CALIFORNIA 400,000 PERSONS ARE ON RELIEF

By RALPH H. TAYLOR

Persons who refuse to accept work at prevailing wages, whatever those prevailing wages are, will be denied relief this year by the State Relief Administration.

That firm declaration of policy by Harold E. Pomeroy, state relief administrator, certainly deserves the hearty commendation of California agriculture and all California taxpayers.

Mr. Pomeroy's statement was in answer to the demands of radical groups which had insisted that the state provide haven and support for persons refusing to work for wages which they considered too low.

"We can't use public relief to change conditions throughout the state," the state relief administrator declared in his enunciation of policy. That would mean bankruptcy for the state. We haven't enough money from tax funds to do that.

"If business, agriculture, or industry can only pay a certain wage and that is the prevailing wage, then we can't give relief to those who refuse to work at that figure.

"We can't lift ourselves by our own bootstraps above the general level of conditions in the United States and we can't use relief funds to lift ourselves above average levels of conditions in California.

"Our position, therefore, is that relief will be denied wherever work is available under conditions that are prevailing. Of course, we will not have our organization used to help those who would chisel under prevailing standards, but otherwise our position stands."

The soundness—and absolute necessity—of such a ruling will be self-evident to any employer of labor, whether farmer or business man, who realizes the large part which relief plays in the present extortionate tax load.

And it will be even more enthusiastically received by many farmers who have had personal experience with "unemployed" who refused work at prevailing farm wages because they could get as much or more in relief payments without the inconvenience of working for their "paychecks."

It is to be regretted that the federal relief agencies have adopted a much more lenient attitude than the state, however. For there is a growing realization on the part of many students of present day conditions that relief rolls never will be purged of the drones and the shiftless until drastic action is taken to weed out the chiselers.

At the present time, California's state relief rolls harbor nearly 65.-000 cases, representing 240,000 persons—nearly 20,000 more than were on state relief at this period a year ago.

But that is only a fraction of the actual relief roll in California. Taking all types of relief into consideration, the authorities estimate that California has one out of seven on relief, with at least 400,000 finding shelter (and support) here who migrated to the state within the last few years.

It would be unfair to condemn the great majority of those now on relief in California as undeserving, for no one can discount the fact that many are victims of conditions which were beyond their control and will gladly take work when it is available.

For those wo can't help themselves, the state must provide help. But it is equally true that thousands of California taxpayers, who have been able to keep their heads above water by dint of hard work and refusal to be licked, are desperately in need of tax relief at the earliest possible opporeunity.

With one out of seven on relief, it is time for all government officials to consider the welfare of the industrious workers who are packing the load for the idle. And it is certainly time to crack down on those who refuse work because the wages or the working conditions don't appeal to them and yet expect to be fed and supported while they await a return to high wage scales.

VARIETY SHOW SACTO. JUNE 24

SACRAMENTO, June 9.—Headed by Budda, famed radio artist, an array of talented New York vaudeville artists and the orchestra of Cy Trobbe, noted conductor, a brilliant variety show will be presented at Sacramento's Memorial auditorium for one night only, Friday night, June 24.

The presentation will mark the California premier of several eastern vaudeville artists, including Li-Kar, interpretive dancer, who has appeared in the leading theatres of Europe, as well as New York's Carnegie Hall and recently completed a ten month engagement on the French Rivera.

Budda, who conducts an amateur hour over radio station KFRC San Francisco at 8 p. m. every Saturday night, will be in charge of production, and act as master of ceremonies for the stellar performance. He is a veteran radio artist, and appeared for many years on the legitimate stage.

The advance seat sale for this brilliant performance is now under way at Ye Music Shoppe, 1014 Tenth street, Sacramento, under the direction of Manager Sid Camp, who reports a brisk demand for seats. Mail orders are being accepted.

Cy Trobbe famed maestro, who will direct the orchestra, is also conductor of the House of Melody program heard each Sunday night over a state wide network, and is rated as one of the outstanding conductors of the present era.

The performance was originally scheduled for June 3, but was postponed due to the inability of eastern artists to arrive in time. Tickets dated June 3 will be honored June 24.

Augmenting the all star entertainment program will be a simonpure and unrehearsed amateur hour, in which talented Sacramentans will compete for valuable awards and a change to embark upon a professional career. The amateur phase of the program will be conducted by Budda, along the line of his Saturday night program.

Word has been received by members of the Curry family in this city that Frank Curry died in Elko, Nevada about two days ago. He was a native of this city. He leaves a wife, Mrs. Neva Curry and two sons

Five Rioters

It is further ordered, that the county clerk, in respect to each defendant, apply the money on deposit as bail in satisfaction of each of said fines, and refund the surplus, if any, to the defendants or other person who made such deposit, as provided in Section 1297 of the Penal Code of California. The defendants are ordered into custody.

Mr. Anderson: On behalf of each of the defendants, I file notice of appeal at this time.

The Court: Very well; the record may show that.

Mr. Anderson: I request that bail be set on appeal.

The Court: Well, the bail on appeal will be $2,000.00 cash or $4,000.00 property bond. I think that the section of the penal code requires that where there is a fine that there must be a bond double the amount of the fine to guarantee the payment of the fine.

Mr. Anderson: The court has imposed an alternative judgment in default of the fine that they serve so much time.

The Court: It is a fine just the same and execution could be levied. That will be the order.

Mr. Anderson: There is sense in arguing the point. I request that the bail be reduced to a reasonable sum, that is, to an amount double the fine that has been imposed.

The Court: The bail will stand.

The Court: Just as I said.

Mr. Anderson: May I direct the court's attention to the order of the court made with respect to the bail in this case of People vs. Yuen? Your Honor is probably not familiar with the amendment to Section 1297 of the Penal Code, under which the court would probably want to amend its own order.

The Court: With respect to Yuen?

Mr. Anderson: With respect to Yuen and all of the defendants. The bail receipts here are not in the name of any of the defendants. The code provides that in any such case the bail may not be forfeited.

The Court: I have the latest code in there, indicating the judge's chambers).

Mr. Anderson: I think if the court would look at it, the court would change the order.

The Court: I believe it provides that the surplus is to be returned.

Mr. Anderson: None of the bail will be forfeited, your Honor.

The Court: I will look at that.

Mr. Anderson: May we do that now?

The Court: Very well, we will take a recess. (Thereupon, the Court, the district attorney and Mr. Anderson retired to the judge's chambers, thereafter returning and the following proceedings ensued):

The Court: There may be some merit in your contention with reference to the amendment of Section 1297, Mr. Anderson, but I will not decide that at this time; that is, with erference to the forfeiture of the money.

Mr. Anderson: Does the court wi me to submit authorities?

The Court: Yes.

Mr. Anderson: I don't know if there are any or not.

The Court: If there are any, you may submit them.

Mr. Anderson: Not within any particular time? I will submit them as soon as I can.

The Court: If there is anything in it, I will see what you have; if the law is the other way I will modify the order.

Mr. Anderson: I wanted to make a motion that judgment be stayed for ten days in order that the court will keep juridiction over its orders. I want to get the authorities in within the ten days so the court will have jurisdiction over its order.

The Court: I think I will have that jurisdiction. I will deny the motion.

Mr. Anderson: Will the court stay execution twenty four hours?

The Court: I think you could contemplate when you came here, the defendants could, what might happen. They should have been ready. The motion is denied. Is there anything further? Court's adjourned.

LAVA CAP MINE

Work was resumed on the tailings dam at the Lava Cap mine southeast of Nevada City, June 1. It is expected the work will be completed July 1. The dam which will be 20 feet high when completed is holding tailings from operations in fine shape. The mill is turning out 300 tons of ore per day. Superintendent Otto E. Schiffner has 260 men employed.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Trimmer and two children of San Francisco will arrive Sunday to spend the week with Mrs. Trimmer's aunt, Mrs. Charles Guenther.

Our Uncle Sam Turns Housewifely; Vacuum Cleans a Harbor's Floor

Tons of silt and sand that pour down the Hudson River made trouble for great ocean liners until the U. S. A. hopper dredge Goethals was built, biggest in the world, to keep the New York harbor safe for navigation.

The ship is equipped with an immense device that resembles a tremendously overgrown household vacuum cleaner, and does its work in much the same effective way. It is swept along the floor of the bay pulling up tons of sand and water by suction created by powerful engines placed amidships. Special bins on the dredge, corresponding to the dust bag of the average housewife's electrical vacuum cleaner, retain the sand and silt. The water drains off. Then the "dust" is deposited where it will do no further harm.

The craft, that successfully uses a popular housekeeping principle for the safety of navigation in a busy port, was named after a famous West Pointer, the late Maj.-Gen. George Washington Goethals, builder of the Panama Canal.

BEHIND SCENES IN AMER. BUSINESS

By JOHN CRADDOCK

NEW YORK, June 9.—BUSINESS—Reports from various sections of the country indicate that industrial production and activity are now down to within a few points of the 1932 low-point. It is difficult to believe that this sad state of business can long persist, however. Business is always on the move, either surging forward or contracting. Like life, business does not stand still. Like the individual, business is able to rejuvenate itself and become strong and healthy after a period of sickness. Pent up demand for goods, injection of new methods and ideas into the business world, and general restoration of confidence in the future are the tonics which bring about trade recovery. These remedies are bound to work their cure in time. In fact, many economists believe that recovery is even now in the making with its beneficial effects expected to take hold by fall.

HUMANITY—Despite the fact that work-relief needs in America have increased, it is encouraging to note that citizens in this country, living in the world's wealthiest nation, are not overlooking the much greater and more presing plight of 50,000,000 civilian refugees in war-torn China. More than 1,500 cities and towns are co-operating with the United Council for Civilian Relief in China and its allied agencies in staging nation-wide "Bowl of Rice" parties on June 17. At least a million persons are expected to attend what may well prove to be the largest dinner party in history. The proceeds will be sent to the internationally recognized American Advisory Committee in China to be allocated by that body for civilian relief including the purchase of medical supplies to stem epidemics of cholera, typhus, diptheria, dysentary and scarlet fever.

AUTO MODELS — Latest advices from Detriot are that 1939 models, to be shown in November, may not be so radically changed as heretofore. Reason is that curtailment of auto buying this year has created a potential demand for new cars which could make itself felt at the first sign of business recovery without recourse to the added sales stimulant that unusual new designs might give. Business men watch auto production figures closely. For the automobile industry is the biggest customer of many other industries. Last year, when 5,000,000 cars and trucks were produced, 3,725,000 carloads of freight were provided American railroads. The motor industry bugs 18 per cent of America's steel outputt, 73 per cent of plate glass, 11 per cent of copper, 36 per cent of lead, 12 per cent of aluminum, 28 per cent of nickel, 46 per cent of upholstery leather and nine per cent of the U. S. cotton output.

DO YOU KNOW THAT — Fifty million false teeth are exported from the United States annually. 68,000,000 telephone calls are made daily or 3½ for each telephone in the Bell System. Mrs. American housewife washes three miles of clothes every year. Hidden taxes add five cents to the price of a tube of toothpaste. In the last six years Australia has sold three times as much wheat in world markets as the United States. A piano is owned by one out of every six American families and 40 per cent of the pianos are between 15 and 60 years old. Enough eggs are produced in this country to supply 236 a year to each man, woman and child.

HEADLINES — Government may spend $1,400,000,000 to aid 6,000,000,000 farmers faced with drop of neasly one-third in market prices for farm products. National City Bank predicts dull business this summer, but pickup in fall. Crude rubber export quota slashed to 45 per cent; rubber plantation owners turn to growing oil palms to fill gap in rubber sales. Cuba becomes third largest source of manganese for American steel mills. World gold output in first four months largest on record.

SCOUTS, 1500 OF THEM, TO CAMP AT LAKE TAHOE

The Incline Public Camp Ground on the shores of Lake Tahoe has been definitely selected as the Camporal site for the boy scouts of northern California and Nevada according to Harris Ricksecker, boy scout executive for the Donner Council area at Auburn. Recksecker in company with W. R. Whidden, Reno, Nevada, and C. D. Bartlett of Marysville, Calif., recently made an inspection of the Incline area and approved it. The prospect of attendance has been greatly increased, Ricksecker now expecting six councils to be represented by two hundred and forty patrols numbering approximately fifteen hundred scouts. He had originally been told to figure on about one thousand. The Camporal will be composed of troops that have made class A in their respective camporees, their ratings depending upon demonstrated knowledge of camping, cooking, personal manufacture of camping equipment and conveniences, and on team work. Each patrol will be assigned an area, will establish and police its own camp, do its own cooking, etc. Officials of the Tahoe National Forest will cooperate in establishing camp sites and in conservation education and training during the camporal.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. William Tamblyn, Tuesday, June 7, 1938, in the Jones Memorial hospital in Grass Valley, a daughter.

RUSTIC SIGNS MARK ENTRANCE TO PARKS

Ranger Frank McCaslin of the North Bloomfield district was a Nevada City visitor yesterday. The new forest service signs will be put up in his district first and he is selecting posts to place them on.

The new signs are rustic, the lettering is cut in redwood and cedar slabs with an electric router and filled with aluminum or orange paint. The signs will be used at all national forest entrances and at public camp grounds maintained by the service. The baked enamel road district signs in good condition throughout the national forests areas will remain. The new signs are more economical.

Wilbur Huestis of the engineering department from the San Francisco office is in Nevada City working up trail programs in the Tahoe National forest. He is revising trail records and charting new construction.

The forest service has done considerable repair work on roads and trails wrich were damaged by floods. A new allotment of money was voted by Congress for flood-repairs but the president has not signed the bill releasing the money. Much of this work will be done in the Downieville district.

Mrs. George Roe left Monday for Tooele, Utah, where she was called on account of the death of her husband, George Roe. He passed away in that city at the home of a daughter on June 2. Mr. Roe had been ill in Nevada City several months and went to Utah hoping it would benefit his health.

Miss Madeline Himes Surprise Hostess

Miss Madeline Himes was tendered a grand surprise when her friends and co-workers at the court house in fancy dress costumes burst in upon her at her home on Piety Hill on Tuesday night, the occasion being her birthday.

Each guest presented Miss Himes with a gift and the group gave her a beautiful gold locket which was presented at a tastefully arranged supper table centered with a large beautiful birthday cake.

Those who enjoyed the happy affair were: Misses Bernice Clemo, Josephine Genasci, Gertrude Wild, Florence Tischer, Ernestine Eilerman, Gertrude Jones, Lois Ennor, Owen Samora, Mae Arbogast, Reita Augustini, Mrs. Anna C. Tucker, Mrs. Ella M. Austin, Mrs. Woodruffe, Mrs. Ida Guenther, Mrs. Ella N. Austin, Mrs. Isabel Heffelfinger the hostess and her mother.

Miss Helen Sutton and Gene Turner are Wed

Miss Helen Sutton, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Carl Sutton of Downieville and Gene Turner, son of the late Harry Turner of Sa ley were united in marriage at the Sutton home in Downieville. Rev. H. H. Buckner of Nevada City performed the ceremony.

Personal

Jackson Englebright, son of Congressman and Mrs. H. L. Englebright, has returned from atteding Junior College in Sacramento the past term.

At a meeting of the Tri-County Federation of Women's Clubs held in Placerville Thursday, May 27, Mrs. James Penrose and Mrs. Belle Douglass were re-elected as first vice president and treasurer respectively.

Mrs. Charles Blay of Washington was a Nevada City visitor Tuesday. Her mother Mrs. Sarah Morrison of Flint, Michigan, has arrived to spend the summer with her.

George R. Osterman, former Nevada City resident, took part in the Shriner convention in Los Angeles over the seventh, eighth and ninth of this week. He took his degree in this division of Masonry in old Mexico City seven years ago. His Mexican regalia is gay and colorful. Mr. and Mrs. Osterman are preparing to come to Nevada City for the 4th of July and it is expected he will wear his costume on this occasion.

M. I. Dow, who has been in Los Angeles for several months, returned to this city this week. He left his wife with a daughter and she remains critically ill. She was ill when she left here and was in a hospital for some time, recovering sufficiently recently to go to her daughters home.

Mrs. W. E. Young and Mrs. Jessie Costa will leave for San Jose Sunday to be in that city in time for encampment of Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Auxiliaries. Mrs. Young was chosen a delegate from Banner Mt. Post, V. F. W. Auxiliary and Mrs Costa was selected as alternate.

C. M. Gwin, administrative assistant on the staff of the Tahoe National Forest at Nevada City and family enjoyed a 273 mile motor trip to Bishop going via Reno, over the recent week end. They found good roads but melting snows made the streams muddy practically all the way. At a hot springs near Mammoth, Mr. Gwin found the geyser spouting red muddy water. He has been traveling over this route the past eight years and this is the first time he has seen the old geyser spouting hot water and steam. It started last fall and has been going continuously ever since.

Judge Raglan Tuttle returned the first of the week from a brief visit with his wife in San Francisco. Mrs. Tuttle was called to the city to be near her brother who is very ill.

FORTY FOUR TO GRADUATE FROM EIGHTH GRADE

Eight years of schooling will come to a close this morning at 10 a. m. in the Washington grammar school when 44 eighth grade students receive their diploma of graduation from grammar school.

This will also be Principal Walter Carlson's last class to graduate as he is retiring after this year.

A very enjoyable program is being prepared by Mr. Leslie and Mrs. Libbey for the event. It will include two class songs. "Memories", and the "Barefoot Trail." Misses Betty O'Connor and Margaret May Shearer will sing the verse, in the second song. William C. Hullender and Betty O'Connor will also give two speeches entitled, "The Gift of Speech," and "The Gift of Music," respectively. Marilyn Lee will introduce the numbers. The eighth grade boys will render a few selections on their harmonicas. Principal Walter Carlson will present diplomas to the following young graduates: Everett Austin, Thomas Everett Ashton, Ben B. Barry, Maxine Fern Beaton, Gino Benuzzi, Tillit Erica Benuzzi, Dorothy Helen Besso, Eleanor Pauline Besso, Louis Francis Butz, Leroy Calvin Christenson, Catherine Coolidge, Lucille Delorius Danos, Margaret M. Deason, Gordon Arthur Douglas, Vernon Eicher, Robert Farmer, Betty LaVerne Foote, Richard Thomas Gregory, Marguerite Lucille Hafelfinger, Francis LeRoy Held, Clement Larson Henwood, William Chester Hullender, Robert Lester Jayne, Billie Louise Keller, Marilyn Jean Lee, Wanda Lystrup, George Marinkovich, Clifford Howard Masterson, Douglas H. Noble, Betty O'Connor, Irene Jeanne Odegaard, Frank O'Shaughnessy, Verna Pitts, Florence Marie Rickard, William Patrick Roe, Margaret May Shearer, Gale Annette Smith, Thaddeus Eugene Sigourney, Raymond Sowden, Billy Bob Turner, Theadore Vassion, Alice Marie Wagner, Joseph Louis Widauf, and Johnnie Jack Wong. This class is smaller than the former classes.

Grammar school mothers of the graduating class will give a luncheon at the National Hotel after the graduation exercises.

SWIM POOL NOW OPEN FOR SEASON

The municipal swim pool opened at noon, Sunday, June 12, and more than 600 have already enjoyed a swim Veryl Gray, manager of the pool states that the pool will be open on weeks days from 1:00 p. m. to 9:00 p. m. and on Sundays from 12:00 to 9:00 p. m. On Thursday the pool closes at 5:30 p. m. for draining and cleaning. When this is completed the water is again turned in and it is ready for use by noon of Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. VanEvery of Galt motored to Nevada City Wednesday evening bringing their daughter, Mrs. Verle Gray, and infant daughter. Mrs. Gray will remain to be with her husband who is in charge of the municipal swimming pool.

Charles Genasci motored to Sacramento this week to meet his nephew, Milton Comozzy, of Ellensberg, Washington. Mr. Comozzy has been attending the Shriners convention in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Harris left Tuesday for a two weeks vacation. Mrs. Harris went to San Francisco and Mr. Harris was joined here by his brother from Los Angeles and they are on their way to Seattle, where they will visit relatives. Mr. Harris stated they would drive up the Redwood highway and continue up the coast route as far as possible.

Robert Elliott, oldest brother of Charles Elliott of this city, and wife of Seattle, arrived in Nevada City Wednesday evening for a visit.

Jim Dolan, who had his left foot amputated in a San Francisco hospital this week, is getting along nicely.

The state division of highways crews are oiling different sections of the highways. The new road mixture is being spread between Rough and Ready and Marysville on the Tahoe Ukiah highway or route 20. They are also improving the shoulders of the highway in the same section. Yesterday a truck and men repaired pavement on Broad street in Nevada City, this being a portion of their highway.

The many friends of Joe O'Neill, who is critically ill with pneumonia at the Nevada City Sanitarium, will be pleased to know that he is showing steady progress in his recovery.

CIVIC CLUB TO HOLD SEASON'S LAST MEETING

The Women's Civic Club will hold the last meeting of the season on Monday evening, June 13, at the Brand Studio.

Mrs. George Legg, literary chairman, has arranged a series of four talks on current books, the first of which "Books on International and Foreign Affairs" will be presented on Monday by Mrs. Kathleen Robinson.

ROTARY TO ASK FOR IMPROVED CITY SANITATION

A garbage disposal system and better sanitation for Nevada City in the way of chlorination for the domestic water supply were discussed by the Rotary club at luncheon yesterday.

Hal Draper broached the subject. He declared that the city stood in need of an ordinance requiring all householders to dispose of their garbage through a collector duly licensed by the city. He stated that this would do away with the present haphazard dumping of tin cans and refuse along highways and streams.

Dr Bernard Hummelt, who in an address before the club some months ago called attention to the need of a chlorination system stated that with the increasing numbers building cottages in the woods and along all the roads there is increasing danger of contamination of the water supply. DeWitt Nelson added that with more than one hundred thousand coming into adjacent watersheds for winter recreation and sports, the danger of polluting the water supply was immeasurably increased.

The president of the club, at the conclusion of the discussion appointed a committee consisting of H. E. Kjorlie, Dr. Bernard Hummelt and Otis Brown to draw up a petition to the city council, secure signatures to it from the club membership and such other citizens as may desire to sign it.

City Attorney Frank Finnegan called attention to the fact that nearly two years ago he drew up such an ordinance but that a group of citizens at that time protested and the city council had not yet acted upon it.

Robert Hendricks stated that the Canadian provincial governments enforced regulations for chlorination of water supplies not only for all municipalities but also for all mining camps and other industrial plants outside municipalities. He stated that he believed that they should not cost a great deal. William Lee remarked that to install a system that would emit chlorine in direct ratio to the gallonage running into the water mains would probably necessitate securing and paying for the best devices and expert supervision in installing them.

Dr. Hummelt was asked to continue his investigation of the matter and to recommend a course of action to be followed by the club in aiding a movement to secure proper chlorination of the water supply. It was suggested that federal aid might be obtained.

S. F. MINT MAKES ANNUAL SETTLEMENT

Due to the annual settlement at this mint, deposits received after June 17, 1938 will not be liquidated until July 1, 1938. Deposits received prior to that date or later than June 27, will be liquidated in the customary five days.

ROLLIN BANTA SAT. NIGHT AT OLYMPIA PARK

Rollin Banta and his 11-piece orchestra that appears at Olympia Park Saturday, June 11, for another engagement by request has been voted as the most popular group of dance musicians for the season of 1937-1938 by the Pi Delta Kappa and Kappa Alpha Pi fraternities. Their style of music has found great favor with the college crowds.

Rollin Banta himself has won much praise on his clarinet solos and his unique arrangements that set feet a tappin'. Musicians of other name orchestras consider Randolph Cleveland, the rhythm man, as one of the "best in the grove," drummers on the stands today.

The vocalist, Sammy Nicoletti, has appeared over KRFC, Columbia's Broadcasting System on many occasions.

SCRAP BOOK IN STATE CONTEST

The Native Daughters Scrap Book will be on display in the window of the Nugget office tomorrow and Saturday.

This book will be entered in a contest at the Grand Parlor which convenes in Santa Barbara, June 20. The committee members who have worked patiently on the project for the past eight months are justly proud of their achievement and believe it worthy of a prize, as being entirely donee by the ladies themselves.

The book is divided into several departments, the first being Parlor Publicity for which the greater number of points are offered and thanks are due the Nugget and Union for their aid in this respect.

The Historical department deals with matters of special interest in California, past and present and the Fashion Department represents the changes in dress and transportation of each decade in the life of California.

Pioneer Department shows photographs and articles of "old timers" of both sexes. It is expected that photos of other pioneers may be added within a few days.

Relic pages contain souvenirs and programs and Parlor activities and the cover shows a modern photograph of Nevada City and caption done by Mrs. George Kagerer, who has done much of the interior lettering, assisted by Mrs. Anna Tucker.

Mrs. Evelina Skeahan left Wednesday for San Francisco for a visit.

Jack Grizzle, part owner of the Twin Cities Clothing Company, spent some time in Sacramento and is now visiting in San Francisco. While there he called on Jim Dolan his partner who is ill in the French hospital.
